BEGINNING GREATER EFFORTS TO FORCE THE DARDANELLES

Fourteen Persons Killed by a Zeppelin Raid on East Coast of England.

HOPES ARE BRIGHTER

Allies May Break Through the Dardanelles and Thus Aid Russia.

London, Aug 10.—The beginning of new and greater efforts to force the Dardanelles, together with a Zeppelin raid on the East coast of England in which 14 persons were killed and 14 wounded, were the features of today's war news.

While no details of the new operations in the Dardanelles have been given out, the public has been allowed to learn that the hope for a successful issue there is brighter. The renewed attempt against the Turkish positions, which apparently is in full swing, seems to be a concerted one. Attacks are being made at the tip of the peninsula, along the Krithia road, where a gain of 200 yards on a front of 300 yards has been made, and at Sari Bair, where an important crest has been occupied.

"Elsewhere," General Hamilton reports, "a fresh landing has been successfully effected and considerable progress made." This landing evidently was a surprise to the Turks, as 630 prisoners, a number of guns and a quantity of material are declared to have been taken by the British forces.

A Turkish official report supplies the localities of two landings. According to this, forces were put ashore in the environs of Karachali, a town on the road which skirts the north shore of the Gulf of Saros, opposite the neck of the Gallipoli peninsula, and near Ari Burnu. This latter place, although it is not shown on available maps, is believed to be at the foot of Sari Bair, just north of where the Australians are holding a strong position.

At Ari Burnu the Turks admit that the landing was successfully carried out but they claim to have dispersed the troops which came ashore near Karachali.

It is believed in military circles here that the landing at Karachali was only a feint to disguise the real intention of the Allies.

The forcing of the Dardanelles is realized by military circles here to be of the greatest importance, for they assert that it is the only way that the Allies can render immediate aid to Russia. In addition it is believed a success at Constantinople would bring the Balkan states definitely over to the side of the quadruple entente.

Germans Lose a Zeppelin.

In their aerial raid over the English coast last night the Germans lost a Zeppelin. It was attacked by gun fire while on its return home and was so seriously damaged that it fell into the sea and was towed into Ostend, Belgium, where Allied airmen attacked and destroyed it. It is believed that four or five airships took part in the raid which resulted in the killing of 14 persons and the wounding of 14 others.

A dispatch from Holland says that five more airships passed over that country going northwest this morning and another air raid on England was expected tonight.

Situation in Russia.

The Austro-Germans are slowly closing in on those portions of the Russian armies which remain on the Polish salient. Their wide outflanking movement in the northern part of the Baltic provinces has been brought to a standstill, but further south they are approaching the forts of Kovno and the Russians are reported to be evacuating Vilna, directly east of Kovno on the main railway line.

The fortress of Lomsea also has fallen and southeast of this place the Germans are approaching the river Bug, which other German forces have reached from its mouth to a point south of Ostrov. These points are not far from the main railway line, which is the German objective.

The armies of the Teutons advancing east of Warsaw, those which crossed the Vistula at Ivangorod, and Field Marshal Mackensen's forces now are joining hands and making another effort to catch and destroy the Russian armies. The Russians, however, are believed in military circles here, to be fairly safe by now.

On Western Front.

On the western front, German attacks, according to the French report, have been repulsed in the Artois and Argonne regions, while Sir John French reports that the British, under a heavy artillery fire, found some of the trenches captured from the Germans south of Hooge untenable and evacuated them.

The British torpedoboat destroyer Lynx has struck a mine in the North sea and sunk. Four officers and 22 men were saved. Vessels of this class generally carry a crew of about 100.

BRITISH CRUISER TORPEDOED.

Eighty of the Crew Saved From British Auxiliary.

Berlin, Aug. 10. (By wireless to Sayville)—The British auxiliary cruiser India, of 7,900 tons, has been torpedoed off the Swedish coast. Eighty members of the crew were saved.

The India was attacked at a point north of Hodge, when entering Restfjord. The rescued men were picked up by the Swedish steamer Goestaland.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN VIEW IS REJECTED

REPLY SENT TO VIENNA

Repudiates Flatly Suggestion That United States Has Violated Neutrality—German and Austrian Records Cited.

Washington, Aug. 10. — The United States government today dispatched to Vienna a reply rejecting the Austro-Hungarian views recently set forth in a note contending that the great scale on which war munitions are being exported from America to enemies of the Germanic allies "is not in consonance with the definition of neutrality."

The reply may be made public later, by agreement between the two governments. Though framed in diplomatic language and entirely friendly in tone, it is understood to repudiate flatly the suggestion that the United States has permitted violations of neutrality, and to stand firmly upon the right of American exporters to send war supplies to belligerents able to purchase and receive them.

The United States always has held that this is an unquestioned right, and high officials have pointed out that to prevent such shipments to one country because another was not in a position to receive them, would, in itself, violate neutrality. Precedents also have been recalled where, in previous wars, Germany and Austria imported arms extensively.

The Austro-Hungarian note set forth the views of that government and suggested that the United States might make redress by informing Austria's enemies that the supply of foodstuffs and war material to them would be suspended unless legitimate trade in these articles between American and neutral countries was permitted.

According to Berlin dispatches, this complaint was sent after a conference between the Austrian and German foreign offices. Similar notes, it was said, soon would be sent to the United States by Germany and Turkey.

COMMISSION ABROGATES RULE OF RAILROADS.

Pullman Tickets and Baggage Checks to be Continuous.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The Interstate Commerce Commission, in a decision today affecting a great volume of passenger traffic particularly from the East and North Central States, to the South, abrogated the proposed rules of railroads which would have prohibited through checking of baggage and sale of through parlor or sleeping car tickets on combination tickets used in connection with joint fares from junction points.

For years travelers from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other trunk line territory going to Southern points have checked baggage through to destination and have secured through Pullman car accommodations on combinations of tickets good only to and from the gateways to Southern and Southeastern territory. The Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio railroads sought to abolish the practice.

Retail merchants, chambers of commerce and travelers in the South and East protested against the inconvenience of detraining at Washington, and other Southern gateways, to re-check baggage and secure Pullman accommodations for the remainder of their journey.

The commission held that no railroad receiving the equivalent of its full local fare to the junction, whatever the character of transportation accepted by the connecting line, may lawfully withhold provision for incidental services universally in demand. Commissioner Harlan dissented.

GRAND JURY INDICTS FOUR FOR EASTLAND DISASTER.

Four Charged With Manslaughter; Two Criminal Carelessness.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—The county grand jury investigating the capsizing of the Eastland in the Chicago river July 24 with the loss of nearly 1,000 lives, today voted indictments charging four men with manslaughter and two with criminal carelessness. It was said no Federal officials were among those indicted. The indictments will be formally returned tomorrow.

The Eastland will be raised tomorrow according to a statement tonight by C. F. Cline, United States district attorney, who returned today from Washington. He refused to divulge any information regarding his trip.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 10.—The time is not ripe for direct co-operation between farmers and consumers and elimination of the middle-man, according to the report submitted today by the Federation of German-American Catholic societies in annual convention here by a special investigation committee. The report declared the cost of living had increased materially and that farmers were not obtaining proper prices but that the retailers were rendering a service to the consumer which the farmers at present cannot replace.

SUBMARINE SUNK BY A TURKISH AEROPLANE

Constantinople, Aug 9, via Berlin, Aug. 10 (By wireless to Sayville)—A submarine of the Entente Allies was sunk near Bulair this afternoon by a Turkish aeroplane which threw bombs upon the craft. All the crew were lost.

COTTON DISCUSSED BY LONDON PAPERS

So[illegible] Urge Government to Declare it Contraband.

[illegible]HERS IN OPPOSITION

[illegible]ited States Asked to Sympathize With the British Viewpoint—What Would America do in Britain's Place, Is Asked

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS WASHINGTON, D. C.

London, Aug 11—Cotton is the subject of editorials in all the morning newspapers today. Some urge the government to declare the staple contraband, while others address the United States and ask sympathy with the British view point.

"We do not conceal from ourselves", says the Morning Post, "the injury that will be caused the United States by our refusal to permit cotton to enter Germany through neutral countries. This injury we deeply regret but in justice can the United States hold us to blame?

"The responsibility must be placed on Germany, the aggressor in this war. Greatly as we deplore the loss the United States may suffer, we simply ask it to put itself in our place. It is not a matter of what the United States did in the past under similar circumstances but what it would do today if placed in the position we are in".

The Daily Telegraph says the mere declaration of contraband cannot decide the issue.

"Such a declaration," the newspaper adds, "to be effective must be supported by an arrangement with such neutral countries as are in touch with the enemy's frontier."

The Daily Telegraph declares that the government should carry out its delicate task unhampered by meetings or demonstrations.

The Times says the question of declaring cotton contraband is "much more delicate and far more complicated than it is currently assumed to be".

The newspaper urges the necessity of declaring cotton contraband on the ground that if it is so declared the United States could not seriously contest the legality of such action as it does now of the British orders in council.

"As contraband", the Times adds, "cotton would be liable to confiscation and the possibility of seeing ships and cargoes confiscated would have a salutary effect in many quarters. But it would be both just and politic were the declarations of policy accompanied by an announcement that the government will prepare to consider measures for the stabilization of prices, if not for the provision of compensation in one form or another for the American cotton growers".

"Will our politicians never act?" asks the Daily Mail. Dealing with the public meeting which is to be held tonight to ask the government to make cotton contraband, the Daily Mail continues:

"What a commentary it is on our official way of doing things that in the second year of the war popular agitation should be necessary to urge our politicians to take a step that ought to have been taken immediately after the outbreak of the war."

The newspaper argues that declaring cotton contraband will at once discourage American exports by reason of the heavy penalties exacted from shippers and make regular the position of Great Britain in the eyes of the United

REPLY TO LAST GERMAN NOTE ON FRYE CABLED

Agrees to Accept Payment for Ship as Suggested.

Though Original Position of United States, That Treaty Was Violated in Destruction of Vessel, is Reaffirmed.

Washington, Aug. 10. — The American reply to the last German note on the William P. Frye case was cabled to Berlin tonight and probably will be made public Saturday.

While the original position of the State Department, that the Prussian-American treaty of 1828 was violated by the destruction of the vessel, is reaffirmed, it is understood the United States now agrees to accept payment for the Frye under the condition suggested in the last German note, obviating an appeal to arbitration at The Hague. Germany stipulates that payment shall not involve admission of a treaty violation; the American note is said to stipulate that no treaty rights are waived by acceptance. The amount to be paid will be fixed by two commissioners, one appointed by each government.

A German prize court in July held the Berlin government liable under treaty for payment for the Frye.

London, Aug. 10. — Fourteen persons were killed and 14 wounded in a raid by German airships of the English coast last night, the official press bureau announced today. The statement says one of the airships was damaged by British aeroplanes, and was towed back to Ostend. The killed include nine women, four children and one man.

APPEAL FOR HELP FOR AMERICANS IN MEXICO RECEIVED

Millions Are Victims of Hunger and Cruelty and Violence, Message Says.

WANT PROMPT ACTION

Not Even a Semblance of Government; Living on Smoldering Volcano.

Mexico City, July 29, (by courier to Vera Cruz for Laredo, Texas, Aug. 10.)—An appeal for help for Americans in Mexico and for relief of the people of the country itself was sent today by the American Society of Mexico to the Washington State Department. It describes conditions in the Mexican capital as unendurable, and implores the Washington government to act promptly.

"The American residents of Mexico appeal once more to their government and people in behalf of the suffering millions of pacific men, women and children in this country who are victims of hunger and cruelty and violence," says the appeal.

"These conditions put the gravest and most pressing responsibility upon the United States which has not only passively permitted them, but has promoted them with arms and ammunition and by encouragement to political adventurers who have prostituted the name of liberty and the cause of human rights.

"There is not even a semblance of government here at the capital and we are living on a smoldering volcano. The entire city council has been imprisoned without cause. We have been three changes of armed government in thirty days. There is no communication with the world except by special messengers."

Conditions which caused the appeal to be sent are detailed in the communications, numerous instances of outrages on Americans and others being cited. The number of deaths from lack of food in Mexico City, said to be from 10 to 12 daily, is declared to be increasing.

Mention is made of the seizure by the authorities of the Mexican Herald, the only English periodical left in the city. With Mexican money almost worthless and food supplies virtually exhausted, "the suffering can be imagined," it adds. The appeal concludes:

"The few reports coming from outside the capital nearly all show the same conditions of distress. If something is not done by the United States or other foreign government to open communications, supply food and stop the killing of men, outrages of women and destruction of property, there will be still graver complications for the world to settle in Mexico.

"The breaking point has been reached where foreigners who have long counseled self-restraint are getting desperate because of what they see around them and what they suffer themselves."

On July 31, two days after this appeal was sent, Carranza forces entered Mexico City.

WILSON BACK TO WASHINGTON.

Will Attend Cabinet Meeting Friday—Mexican Situation Calls Him.

Cornish, N. H., Aug. 10. — After receipt today of official reports regarding the Mexican situation, President Wilson decided to return to Washington within the next forty-eight hours. He will be back in time for the cabinet meeting Friday.

The President was in commuication today with Secretary Lansing, and other officials regarding a request from Commander McNamee, at Vera Cruz, that a battleship squadron be sent there. It was believed the President had directed that further information be obtained regarding the situation at Vera Cruz.

BRITISH PEOPLE WANT COTTON PLACED ON CONTRABAND LIST

London Daily Chronicle Deprecates Popular Agitation to That End

London, Aug. 11—The Daily Chronicle publishes an article today deprecating the popular agitation to bring pressure to bear on the foreign office with the object of having raw cotton made contraband of war. A public meeting to forward the agitation has been announced for Wednesday.

"This matter," says the Daily Chronicle, "involves international questions of great delicacy and perplexity. * * * On a balance there is an advantage in declaring cotton contraband, but to do that and no more would not remove the difficulties which have arisen between the United States and the British government. On both sides there is the utmost good will but necessarily the point of view of Washington is not that of London".

The Daily Chronicle then continues: "Nor will the negotiations be helped by any action of this country which is capable of being misinterpreted as a Manchester manœuvre to obtain cheap cotton. In short, things are now at the stage when newspaper or trade agitation might have a very embarrassing consequence."

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 10.—The Holy Synod of the Russian church has directed the Archbishop of Grodno and the archbishop of Vilna to remove the sacred relics from the churches in Brest-Litovsk, Kovno and other places within the zone of military operations, according to the Bourse Gazette.

TWO BATTLESHIPS SENT TO VERA CRUZ

Response to Urgent Request of Commander McNamee.

ONLY PRECAUTIONARY

Action Has No Connection With Pan-American Conference to be Resumed in New York Today—At President's Order.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Two American battleships, the Louisiana and the New Hampshire, sailed tonight from Newport, R. I., for Vera Cruz, in response to an urgent request from Commander McNamee that his little fleet of gunboats in Mexican waters be reinforced in view of anti-foreign demonstrations at the Carranza capital. It is understood the President himself ordered the warships sent, although no official here would even admit that they had sailed.

Care was taken to point out that any naval or military activity at this time would be purely precautionary, and could not be construed as having any connection with the Pan-American conference which is to be resumed in New York tomorrow to complete a program for restoration of government in Mexico.

Official reticence concerning the movements of the Louisiana and New Hampshire is due largely to a fear that if news of their coming reaches Vera Cruz ahead of the ships, the already serious situation might be aggravated.

Commander McNamee, the senior American naval officer on the Gulf coast, cabled his request for reinforcements last night, and the two battleships immediately were ordered held in readiness to proceed. Today, after conferences between Lansing and Rear Admiral Benson, acting secretary of the navy, it was understood the sailing of the ships would be delayed, pending fuller reports from Vera Cruz, and that if possible the sending of any considerable additional force would be avoided on account of the effect such a step might have on work of the Pan-American conference.

Wilson in Touch.

President Wilson, at Cornish, N. H., was advised by telephone of Commander McNamee's report and several hours later a long code dispatch reached the Navy Department from Cornish. Then it became known the ships had been instructed to start for Vera Cruz at once.

Secretary Lansing, who left tonight for New York, to attend the Pan-American conference, would not discuss naval movements further than to admit that a ship would be sent to replace one which will bring the Brazilian and Guatemalan ministers to the United States. He said that on account of continued bandit raids on the border orders soon would be issued to increase the American military forces there, but at the same time declared emphatically that neither this action nor any movements of ships had any bearing whatever upon the plans of the Pan-American conference.

Mr. Lansing said he expected to be back at his desk Thursday morning, "if we have good luck."

President Wilson will be back in time to attend a cabinet meeting on Friday, at which both the program of the Pan-American conference and the situation at Vera Cruz will be discuss-

WARSAW COST GERMANS A MILLION CASUALTIES

Capture Represents Greatest Teutonic Achievement of War

Evacuation Carried Out from Beginning to End Without Slightest Confusion, Panic or Demoralization, Says Correspondent.

London, Aug. 11.—The Times' Warsaw correspondent, who left the city with the last of the Russian troops, has sent the following from Petrograd:

"The capture of Warsaw undoubtedly represents the greatest German achievement in the war and it will be stupid to minimize the character of the campaign or the bravery of the German soldiers whose sacrifices placed them in possession of the goal for which they suffered approximately a million casualties in the space of a year. On the other hand it would be stupid to exaggerate the importance of Warsaw.

"The city was lost, not through the defective generalship or inferiority of the Russian army, but solely through the inability of Russia to convert its vast resources quickly to the uses of war. The evacuation of Warsaw was carried out from beginning to end without the slightest confusion, panic, demoralization or discouragement. For two weeks an unending train of transports passed in orderly procession out from the city, removing everything which might be of value to the Germans.

"There was no storming of the city, for the Russians blew up the bridges at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the Germans did not arrive on the Warsaw side of the river until 6 o'clock."

TEUTONIC FORCES MOVING FORWARD

Russians Continue to Fight Obstinate Rear Guard Battles

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Artillery Engagements and Infantry Attacks on Austro-Italian Front Continue—Two British Warships Destroyed.

Except in the region of Riga, where the Germans evidently have been checked, the Teutonic forces still are moving forward in their efforts to drive the Russians from the Baltic provinces and Poland. The Muscovites continue to fight obstinate rear-guard battles.

Lomsean, the Russian stronghold on the Narew, has been captured, Kovno is being threatened and Vilna, some 225 miles northeast of Warsaw, is being evacuated by the civilian population. The Teutonic drive eastward from north of Warsaw and along the Vistula, continues, while in the region between the Vistula and the Bug and along the Vieprz the Russians still are falling back before the oncoming Teutons.

Sir John French, the British commander in the West, announces the evacuation of part of the terrain captured near Hooge, Belgium, Monday. This, he says, makes no material difference in the British line, as other captured positions have been consolidated and are being held. Elsewhere, in Belgium and France, comparative calm prevails.

Artillery engagements and infantry attacks on the Austro-Italian front are going on in the same manner as for weeks past, with each side claiming victories at isolated points.

General Sir Ian Hamilton reports a gain for the Allies on Gallipoli of 200 yards over a front of 300 yards near Krithia, the capture of a hill near Sari Bair and a new landing of Allied forces at some unnamed point on the peninsula.

Constantinople admits two landings by the Allies. One of these was north of Ari Burnu, where "a slight advance" was made under protection of the French fleet. The other was at Karachali, near the head of the Gulf of Saros. Here the Allies are declared to have been dispersed.

The Germans have launched another air raid on the east coast of England, and Allied airmen have attacked two towns in Bavaria. In the raid on England 14 persons were killed and 14 injured, while in one of the Bavarian towns eight were killed and two wounded. A Zeppelin which was engaged in the operations against England, was destroyed by Allied airmen at Ostend.

Two vessels of the British navy have met with disaster. The auxiliary cruiser India has been sent to the bottom off the Swedish coast by a German submarine, and the torpedo boat destroyer Lynx has been sunk in the North Sea by a mine.

The United States, in a note to Austria, dealing with exportation of war munitions to the Allies, rejects Vienna's contention that such action "is not in consonance with the definition of neutrality."

A note dealing with the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, has been cabled to Berlin by Washington.

TEUTONS CLAIM SUCCESSES

Continue to Drive Russians Out of Their Positions, Says Vienna

Vienna, Aug 10.(via London)—Austrian forces pursuing the Russians retreating from the Vistula have reached the district southeast of Zelechow (north of Ivangorod, about midway between the railway lines connecting Ivangorod with Warsaw and Lukow) closely followed by portions of the army of Archduke Joseph Ferdinand, advancing across the lower Vieprz. This announcement was made by the war office tonight.

"Further east, on the front of the Bug river," adds the statement, 'our allies have captured the line of enemy rear guard positions. Near Czernelica, on the south bank of the Dniester (northeast of Bukowina) Austrian troops have captured the bridgehead position which until now has been stubbornly defended by the Russians. Twenty-two officers, 2800 men, six machine guns, many cars and much war material were captured by us.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The American steamer Llama, one of two Standard Oil ships taken by German submarines to Sweinemunde, was released on August 6th, according to a dispatch today from Ambassador Gerard. The dispatch did not say whether the Llama's petroleum cargo was detained and makes no mention of the steamer Wico, taken with her.

10,000 ARMENIANS ARE MASSACRED BY KURDS

Tiflis, Trans caucasia, via Petrograd and London, Aug. 10.—The Armenian bishop has received information that 60,000 Armenian refugees have arrived at Igdir, the principal outlet of the vilayet of Van. It is expected fully 100,000 will be driven from Van alone and another exodus of Christians from Persia is feared.

Kurds are reported to have massacred 10,000 Armenians in the vilayet of Bitlis, throwing the bodies of the victims into the Tigris and Euphrates.

The war on this front has reached a degree of intensisity hitherto unknown except in the period just preceding the Russian victory at Sary-Kamysoh.

TO RE-ESTABLISH PEACE IN MEXICO BY FRIENDLY MEANS

Inter-American Effort Will be Put Into Operation at New York Today.

APPEAL IS PREPARED

First Joint Note Will Contain No Threat or Intimation of an Alternative.

New York, Aug 10.—With the reassembling here tomorrow of the Amand Central American governments and the Secretary of State of the United States, a definite inter-American effort will be put into operation to re-establish peace in Mexico by friendly means and to restore the revolution-torn country to its acustomed place in the American family of nations.

The conference will be concerned with details of the first step in a plan the important features of which were agreed upon last week by the ambassadors from Brazil, Chile and Argentina and the ministers from Bolivia, Guatemala and Uruguay and Secretary Lansing.

The plan contemplates first of all supreme appeal to the consciences of the Mexican leaders of all political groups. It has been prepared, and after minor changes in phraseolgy are discussed tomorrow, probably will be dispatched immediately. A reasonable time—a few weeks— will be allowed for answers.

No Threat to Be Made

The appeal will be brief, politely phrased. It will show clearly that the seven governments whose representatives sign it have no purpose to interfere in the strictly internal affairs of Mexico, to impair her sovereignty, or to show preference for any leader as against another. It will be an eloquent petition that the Mexican leaders agree to a conference to be held on neutral ground in Mexico to create a provisional government that can be accorded moral support and formal recognition by all the American states.

No threat will be made, nor any intimation given of what will be the course of the several American countries if the suggestions made are declined, all considerations being for the time subordinated to the primary purpose—the final appeal to the patriotism of all Mexicans to redeem the prestige of the nation before the world and to show whether its leaders seek personal aggrandizement of the true welfare of their country.

Purposes Misconstrued.

The complete plan that has been adopted for the solution of the problem has not been revealed, but already some misconstructions of the purposes of the Latin-American countries and the United States have been spread which the diplomats fear may prove embarrassing. They are confident, however, that when fully and authoritatively disclosed it will be difficult for any of the factions to find a just ground for declining to enter into the spirit of co-operation and non-partisanship of the suggestions made.

While the appeal that is to go forth will not specify the exact course to be followed, the conferences have taken into consideration all the possibilities of the situation. If any faction or group fails to attend the peace conference, those leaders or delegates who do will be expected to proceed with the task of setting up a government that can be recognized. With this recognition, an embargo on arms would be declared by the United States against all other contending groups, and such moral support given to the new government as would enable it, through rehabilitation of its finances, to equip a force large enough to crush armed opposition.

"Without Armed Intervention"

The plan, so far as worked out, aims to accomplish peace in Mexico without armed intervention. By using this power of recognition judiciously, the American countries hope to solve the Mexican problem within the next two months.

Tomorrow's conference will be taken up with a discussion of the various eventualities that may result from the first step and the distribution of the appeal throughout Mexico. The session probably will adjourn tomorrow night.

BANDITS ATTACK CAVALRYMEN

Mexicans in Texas Clash With United States Army Forces

Brownsville, Texas, Aug 10.—No word had been received here tonight of the result of the search for Mexican bandits who today attacked United States cavalrymen near Mercedes, Texas, about 25 miles north of the Texas-Mexican boundary. One Mexican was killed in the fighting today which occurred west of the previously disturbed zone, indicating, it is believed here, that there are several bands of Mexicans carrying on a lawless campaign in the lower Rio Grande valley.

An investigation of the purposes and extent of these raids was given today by Jesus Garcia, a Mexican wounded and captured in the Sunday fight at Norias. He said many Mexicans, especially the lower classes, hope to regain possession of that part of Texas, between the Rio Grande and the Nueces river, and return it to Mexico. Garcia said a political party having that aim exists in the Southern part of Texas.

The recent raids he said were intended to equip Mexicans for organized conflict to re-conquer the lower end of south Texas. Horses, guns

YEAR OF WAR BRINGS CHANGE UPON PARIS

Reservist Returning Home Feels Like Stranger.

Everywhere There Is Something New —Pride Has Been Offset by Mourning and Prohibition Has Ousted Strong Drink

Paris, Aug. 10.—The reservist home for the first time after a year at the front realizes less the change in himself than the transformation of his Paris. He has acquired his new color gradually and has built up his hitherto unknown muscles almost imperceptibly. The blase Parisian, who left for the front soft and pallid, with stooping shoulder and spiritless eye, indifferently interested in life, comes back not only strengthened but brightened; his mind has been reopened to impressions. The little revolutions that have transformed Paris, gradually, break upon him all at once; he is more like a tourist visiting the French capital for the first time than a man who knows, or knew, his boulevards by heart.

It is a curious spectacle to see the reservists swarming into the court of the Gare du Nord like children full of picnic enthusiasm. They seem to discover something new everywhere; first of all it is the civilian that gets their curious attention. There is first the surprise of the man from the trenches that so many men were left at home; then there is unconcealed amusement at the gravity with which the less reassured of the noncombattants read the official communiques and calculate the chances of being safe in Paris another winter. The absence of motor buses, the reduced number of automobiles and decreased facilities for transportation inspire all sorts of quips and jibes at the "civils", as for himself the reservist has increased his stock of resourcefulness. A year ago he would have fumed when unable to find a cab; today he trots off to the subway, satisfied and amused to think that the "civils" must be devilishly annayed.

When he sits down on the terrace of a cafe he amuses himself by ordering prohibition drinks and pokes fun at the old boulevardier at his side who takes his substitute for absinthe with a grimace.

Having lost the habit of soft bed until 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning, he has discovered a new Paris—the Paris of the early hours— that goes cityward from seven o'clock on and is rarely seen at its best by those who find it only when submerged by the bustle of the later hours. The ordinary sewing woman, with pricked and stained finger-ends, comes first; A little later the smart class of milliners models and seamstresses, the shop-girls, stenographers, terminating with the mannequins and foreladies, the aristocracy of the great fur cloak and dressmaking establishments.

War has reduced the number and leveled conditions; the procession is still charming, but with new features. It is a long line of white and black. No crape here, for their mourning is democratic; rich bereavements alone may wear the aristocratic weeds. Those that work content themselves with black shirts and little jackets with white collarete. This little world that files past in the early hours, is witness of the tribute Paris has paid to the "patrie". Conversations vary little. One has a letter, another is anxious because she hasn't one. Those in black talk without bitterness, without a sign of revolt against what they endure. Formerly most of them en route devoured stories published by the morning papers. Now they are plunged into the official communiques from different belligerent countries, which they comment with quite as much perspicacity as the bald-headed gentleman who later in the day wins or loses a dozen battles over his aperitif at his favorite cafe. Strangest of all, these girls become assiduous readers of the "Journal Official",—the Congressional record of France. They look at once to the pages containing the citations in the orders of the day. Everyone of them hopes to find there the name of some of the boys at the front. They generally have a little flower to spare and this an early morning reservist gets, along with one of the touching lessons of wartime in Paris.

"Sapristi! But Paris is dark", is a common remark, not that it bothers the reservist who has acquired something of the sight of a cat at the front, but he wonders how the "civils" can stand it. Knowing that the cafes were formerly closed at eight, he wonders why they are not filled as in the old days until the present closing hour of half-past-ten. "That", the "civil" tells him, "is something in the nature of 'acclimatation' —like life at the front." He has acquired the 8 o'clock habit and this habit has become as strong as the old two o'clock in the morning habit.

GIRL DROPS DEAD WHEN "UNLOADED" PISTOL FIRES.

Young Woman Instantly Killed at Elizabeth City Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Elizabeth City, N. C., Aug. 10.—Emma Ives, a 17-year-old girl, was shot through the heart by Robert White, 15 years old, this evening about 6 o'clock. Her father is E. W. Ives, of South Creek, but she has made her home here a number of years. The shooting was accidental and occurred at the home of Paul F. White, Robert's father, on the edge of town. Emma had been visiting Minnie White a number of days. Minnie, Robert and Emma were in the kitchen, the girls busy getting supper. Robert was playing with a pistol supposed to be unloaded. He snapped it at Minnie and then at Emma and the gun fired. The girl dropped dead.

ROCKY MOUNT WINS FROM NORFOLK ON BOOSTER DAY.

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 10.—Everybody had a good time at the big Merchants' Booster Day today and upwards of 2,000 overran the side lines and into the field and were treated to one of the best ball games of the year, a victory for the locals and a great big hunk of fun in the stunts arranged for the occasion. Applegate, for the Tar Heels, made a near division of half hits in the first frame when five safe clouts sent three men around the paths and the Norfolk club took a lead that it required until the eighth to equal, while in the ninth Applegate's slashing drive between center and left allowed Wratten to cross for the winning run. There was a rapid fire of sensational stops and great plays pulled off by both clubs, and gilt edge support for the premier pitchers brought the clash truly in the baseball classic of the season.

HANSON PROVES CLAIMS

Produces Newspaper Clippings—Will Weigh Publicly Thursday

Fritz Hanson, scheduled to wrestle Vallis, the Greek wrestler, Thursday night, has decided to make good his claims that the public may feel assured that he is not running any bluffs. At 6:15 o'clock Thursday evening, some little time before the wrestle he and Vallis will weigh in public at Warren's Cigar store, opposite the Orton Hotel. Hanson has promised to work down to 145 pounds, the standard for welter-weight, and will show that he is keeping his promise. He wrestled three men for 45 minutes yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. and did a lot of other work and says he will not weigh a pound over 145 by Thursday night.

Another point on which Mr. Hanson is making efforts to convince the fans of the city, is that his claims regarding his championship are valid. He has a book with hundreds of clipping from newspapers in Massachusetts, telling of his winning the light weight championship, in 1903 and the welterweight championship on Christmas night of 1909, in Claremont, New Hampshire, when he won the Lord Lonsdale belt, carrying with it the welterweight championship of the world. He has a number of photos of himself from different newspapers, telling of his feats as welterweight champion, including the New York Police Gazette.

MILTON SNELLING RESIGNS FIRST VICE PRESIDENCY.

Of Organized Labor's National Peace Council—Clash Among Leaders.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The resignation of Milton Snelling, of Washington, vice president of the International Union of Steam and Operating Engineers, from the first vice presidency of Labor's National Peace Council, was announced today at headquarters of the American Federation of Labor.

Following closely the clash between Representative Buchanan and the White House because President Wilson did not see a delegation from the peace council, and repeated statements of Samuel Gompers that the council had no connection with the American Federation of Labor, Snelling's resignation added a new chapter to a series of events which stirred organized labor circles.

Snelling's letter of resignation was addressed to Buchanan as president of the peace council:

"When I discovered," Snelling wrote, "persons were participating in the meeting who have been hanging on the fringe of the labor movement for their own personal aggrandizement, men who have been discarded, one who is expelled from the international union of his trade, and others never having been members of any organization of labor, I am free to say that it caused me considerable chagrin, disappointment and disgust."

New York, Aug. 10.—The Federal Reserve Board which usually meets in Washington, held a conference here today in the offices of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. The session, following the visit of Secretary McAdoo to Wall Street yesterday, caused considerable speculation.

THEATRICAL

There's a powerful moral in "The Crooked Path", the three-act Kalem drama on at the Grand today. It is the story of a man who throws the guilt of a crime which he himself had committed, upon the shoulders of another. Since the wages of sin is death, it is inevitable that he should pay the penalty. The culprit in question is Alen and his victim is Lynn, the boy with whom he had gone to school. The love of both lads for Mary brought them to the parting of the ways. Lynn concealed his love because his duty lay in caring for his widowed mother. As the result Mary believed that Lynn did not care for her and eventually married Alen. What follows is of intense interest. See "The Crooked Path" and take your family to see it. Alice Hollister, who has not been seen here for a long time, plays the leading role, supported by Mr. Harry Millarde, who is also a Grand favorite. Next we have the world before your eyes, "The Hearst Selig Pictorial," illustrating all the current events. Serbians battle Austrians in mountains on Serbian firing line near Belgrade. Chicago Police dump hundreds of deadly weapons into lake; gun firing is staged by Guard Artillery as in regular war; exhibit automatic warships, 13-foot model of Massachusetts swings turrets and fires guns after mechanism is set in motion.

Tomorrow the Paramount Picture Corporation presents Mr. William S. Hart in "The Bargain", a great Western drama, the scenes are laid in the Grand Canyon of Arizona, and typical western situations.

At The Bijou Today

Opening this morning at 11 o'clock, the thrilling second episode of "The Diamond from the Sky," featuring Mary Pickford's beautiful younger sister Lottie in the leading role, will be on at the Bijou. No serial of recent times has made such a hit from the very beginning as "The Diamond From The Sky", and as it actually gets better with each succeeding chapter, it is destined to make the biggest hit of all time at the Bijou—Wilmington's popular movie house.

Lottie Pickard and Irving Cummings seem especially adapted for the exacting leading roles in this photoplay supreme, but it is stated from where the picture has been shown, that they do not get "right" to give the public the most thrilling of stunts until the third chapter. Therefore, today's two-reel chapter may confidently be expected to be even more interesting than the first leading up, as it does, to the terrific thrills in the third chapter.

"Bound on The Wheels", a great three-reel Universal special feature with the peerless M. K. Wilson in the leading role, makes today's big bill especially interesting. It is said to be one of the very most interesting and interest—compelling three-reel dramas ever released by any company, and for the entire three reels will hold your undivided attention and keep you under a spell of enchantment until the final flash.

COMES FROM MASSACHUSETTS TO SUE WAKE COUNTY REGISTER.

Because License to Marry Was Issued to Her Baby Daughters.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 9.—Following the recent decision of the judge of the municipal court that the parent of a girl under age who is licensed to marry by the register of deeds without due diligence as to the verity of the statement as to the age of the bride, may recover the penalty of $200 against the register, there is talk from several sources of suits to be instituted. The plaintiff Florence Carrington, has just arrived from Massachusetts to bring suit for the licensing of both her "baby daughters" as she terms them, to marry. These licenses were issued in April and they were represented to be twins 19 years old. Now the mother insists that one is 15 and the other 17. The register of deeds, Arch J. Wood, has given his deputies the strictest orders to stand out for the most absolute proof of age in every case where application is made for license. In fact, the recent troubles have forced conditions as to procuring licenses that make it impossible for such breaks to occur again.

ROTARIANS HAVE GREAT TIME IN CAPITAL CITY

Those of Four Cities Enjoy Day's Festivities

From Wilmington, Asheville, Norfolk and Richmond They Are Welcomed to Raleigh and Given Royal Reception.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 10.—A brilliant supper and dance at the Raleigh Country Club tonight that continued to 11 o'clock rounded out a day of festivities for Rotarians, the equal of which Raleigh Rotarians have never before undertaken, all in honor of visiting Rotarians from Richmond, Norfolk, Wilmington and Asheville, who arrived this morning as the special guests of the Raleigh club. The Richmond delegation of 50 Rotarians was headed by President John McAdams, the Norfolk delegation of 39 by President Robert Johnson, the Wilmington delegation of 18 by Swift Boatwright, and the Asheville group of six by President George Cox.

It was a splendid company of young business men imbued with the true Rotarian spirit and bent upon accomplishing the greatest possible good for their home towns and the whole of the splendid Virginia-Carolina territory they represent.

Met at the union station in the early morning by the Raleigh Rotarians with brass band and automobiles for all, the visitors were conveyed to aYrborough hotel where breakfast was served at 7:45 o'clock. Then the automobile procession moved with marked zest and strenuosity to the State House where there was a couple of hours of interchange of greetings and speech making that was pleasing to a marked degree. For the breakfast President Albert Cox presided and for the meeting in Representatives Hall Henry Bagley was master of ceremonies, indulging the most pleasing witticisms in the presentation of the various speakers.

President Albert Cox welcomed the visitors to the "Biggest Little City" in the country and told them to take whatever they saw in the city and if there was anything they didn't see that they wanted to ask for it and it would be forthcoming.

Noisy Ovation Given.

President Thomas McAdams, of the Richmond Rotarians, was introduced amid shouts, jangling cow bells and roll of drums, and addressed the assembled rotarians as "Fellow members of the House of Representatives."

A laugh swept through the hall, but Mr. McAdams insisted that he was right and that he was addressing an especially representative body of men from the two great states. He paid tribute to the Norfolk Rotarians for having launched the Rotary movement to link the clubs of different communities as exemplified in this meeting and predicted that this will speedily become a cardinal principle with Rotarians.

President McAdams said that practically all the real live business men of Richmond are Rotarians, but that all could not leave at once without seriously clogging the wheels of business. He talked enthusiastically of Rotarians and the great purpose of the organization, and was cheered to the echo.

President Robert Johnson, of the Norfolk Club, was next introduced and talked of the North Carolina and the Virginia hospitality so evenly matched as to make it possible to hyphenate the term and make it Carolina-Virgina hospitality. He wanted the Rotarians of the other cities to realize the commercial and social activities of Norfolk and visit the city freely.

The next "live wire" to be touched off by Master of Ceremonies Bagley was President George Cox, of the Asheville club. His grandfather lived in Raleigh and his father was born here. He was pleased beyond measure to come and bring with him other Rotarians. He sang the praises of Asheville and Western Carolina and wanted everybody to come this summer or next and if Asheville could not hold them Western Carolina could.

Wilmington Man Speaks.

The Wilmington Rotarians had for spokesman Swift Boatwright, who told of the activities of the Wilmington club and of their special purpose just now to establish a great bridge across the Cape Fear so that Rotarians and other automobile iraveters from all over the State can ride into the City by the Sea without ferry and over the finest roads. He regretted that the sad tragedies of the past three days in Wilmington had made it impossible for many Rotarians who had planned to make this trip to do so.

W. E. Herman, of Norfolk, was introduced as "little but loud" to tell of attending the great Rotarian convention at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He was set upon the top of the Speaker's desk and talked most interestingly for seven minutes. He explained that the cow bells that the Norfolk Rotarians carried were to identify them and keep them from getting lost should any "fall by the wayside."

Mr. Horace Smith, of Richmond, told of the big entertainment for merchants of Carolina and Virgina that is being arranged by Richmond during the next week, and invited all to come.

Mayor Johnson welcomed all to Raleigh and declared that Raleigh is especially proud of her Rotary club, which is recognized as the very livest thing in the Capital City. An he recognized the same spirit among the visiting Rotarians. The whole city was at their disposal, he assured them, and anything they wanted and didn't see, ask for it and it would be provided forthwith. The remarks of Mayor Johnson closed the open meeting and the Rotarians repaired to the north entrance to the State House where a big photograph of the crowd was taken. Then all went in automobiles for a ride over the city and suburbs and out to the Milbournie fishing club house where a big barbecue was served. Thereafter they returned to Raleigh and divided forces, the fans being driven out to the baseball park for the Raleigh-Durham ball game, and the golfers out to the Raleigh Country Club for play over the splendid 18-hole course. Then tonight there was the sumptuous dinner on the lawn at the country club followed by a dance in the club house for which the visiting Rotarians were the honor guests, this being the closing feature of entertainment with the visitors leaving thereafter for their home "hubs."

MR. BION H. BUTLER READY TO RECEIVE CONTRIBUTIONS.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 10.—Henry A. Page, president of the North Carolina State Publicity Bureau; J. C. Forrester, secretary, and Bion H. Butler, field secretary, held a meeting in Greensboro a few days ago to develop plans for a preliminary campaign and for the big gathering at Raleigh in October when the permanent organization will be effected.

Following the Greensboro meeting the following statement was issued:

"The Greensboro meeting decided that the first thing to do is to finance the movement and adopted the suggestion of the previous meeting at Raleigh to ask 100 men or institutions of the state to subscribe $50 each. The officers of the bureau take it that the people of North Carolina mean business in organizing this bureau, and therefore that preliminary talk is not necessary. To accomplish its purpose money is essential, and the way to provide the money is to provide it. North Carolina, favored beyond comprehension by nature, is not going to make a bluff at deevlopment. This movement is started to accomplish a great success, and it is to buckle to work from the beginning.

"Mr. Butler has been delegated to receive the 100 subscriptions of $50 each and it is desired that the work be made as expeditious and simple as possible. Where it is not convenient to pay the full amount at once, installments will be entirely acceptable, and initial payment of $10 or more being suggested, with the remainder at the pleasure of the subscriber. Those who feel that they can contribute more than $50, are advised to do so, for this is not a conscience-soothing gift to charity. It is a business investment. The development of North Carolina is a man's sized job, and we don't want to start out in any boy fashion. We have started this thing, and two things you may be sure we cannot afford to do. We cannot afford to lay down on the job, nor to do any half way execution with it. It has to go with enthusiasm from the start, and keep up enthusiasm, or we confess frankly to the world that North Carolina is a bunch of jelly fish and mollycoddles, wihch you know we are not.

"The only answer is to get your contribution in quickly as you can into the hands of Bion H. Butler, Southern Pines, N. C., and to see that it is as much over $50 as you can make it if you can make it more. Moreover, make yourself a recruiting agent among your neighbors, and if it becomes necessary for Mr. Butler to make a personal visit to your neighborhood, see that he is promptly brought into contact with those of your community who are alive and who are willing to help make of North Carolina the state for which nature has designed it, and that is one of the most progressive and prosperous of the whole union.

"Checks should be made payable to Alf A. Thompson, treasurer, and can be forwarded to Bion H. Butler at Southern Pines, N. C., without further debate."

MOROCCAN TOWNS ARE BEING FAST DEVELOPED

French Carrying Out Their Aims With Rapidity.

Broad Avenues Supplanting Spots Heretofore Covered With Vegetation —Many Marvels Being Worked Upon Minds of Moors.

(Correspondence of Associated Press)

Casablanca, Horocco, Aug. 8.—Morocco, one of the biggest bones of contention between European powers, but lost to sight now in the general war, appears not to suffer from the neglect of diplomats. During the thick of the conflict French rule is developing its aim with rapidity.

Casablanca is building with the pace of a mushroom town of the west. In two years it has become a modern, model town, with sewers, water, gas, electric light, new quays, wharves and piers. This sudden growth of what in these parts is a town of skyscrapers awes and dominates the Moor, who watches it from his low gourbi or tent as though it were witchcraft.

Yesterday where the vegetation of the west African coast grew a foot high there are broad avenues stretching far from the seashore. The natives lined up on either side look on lazily, marveling at the zeal of the German prisoners-of-war putting the finishing touches to the pavements, and wondering for what it is all intended. Tomorrow more hotels, stores and villas will rise there, and as fast as the lots are taken up more avenues will be built. The town as now laid out would easily accommodate 200,000 inhabitants in addition to its regular population of 80,000.

The smoking chimneys of a big cement works, erected to facilitate building, add one more to the many marvels that have worked upon the minds of the Moors. So many of these marvels of French colonization have they seen that the departure of a considerable portion of the French troops has not in the least diminished French prestige. On the contrary, the participation of a consideraole contingent of Moroccan native troops in the fight so far away has made it in a way "their war," while the five thousand Germans brought here in captivity are looked upon with a sort of local pride as "our prisoners." There are many legends afloat as to the proportion of these men who were captured by Sidi Mohamed, by the Caid El Hadk Kazan and other glories of the Moroccan "goumiers."

Rabat, Kenitra, Marrakech, as well as Casablanca, are developing according to plans previously prepared in France, and with the same method although with less activity. While Casablanca is the metropolis of Morocco, Rabat has the honor of being the capital, temporarily at least. The new provisional government buildings are completed and new streets laid out in the form of an amphitheatre on the hill beside the Arab town.

During the first year of the war 33 miles of railroad have been added to the line that, by way of Marrakech and Rabat will ultimately unite Casablanca and Fez. It was supposed that the construction of this line would require five or six years; it will have been completed in less than two, and when the line from Oujda to Taza has been prolonged to Fez, the French will have uninterrupted communication by rail from their Algerian possessions, across Morocco, to the Atlanti. These lines are narrow guage military roads, easily convertible later, as circumstances may ustify, into commercial lines.

New York, Aug. 10.—The value of a gold shipment from England to New York now on its way here from Halifax by special train is $50,000,000, according to R. E. M. Cowie, vice president and general manager of the American Express Company, which has the shipment in charge. Mr. Cowie said tonight the shipment was expected to arrive here tomorrow morning. Twenty-five motor trucks will transfer it to the sub-treasury in Wall Street.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 10.—Today the county commissioners of practically every county in North Carolina will meet at Morehead City to attend the annual meeting of the State Association of Commissioners which will be in session there for two days or more. W. M. Long, of Charlotte, is the president of the association and he has done everything possible to secure a large attendance at the meeting this year and there is every indication that the number of members present will be larger than ever before. Craven county is to send representatives as will all the other counties in this section. Among the most important subjects to be discussed will be that of good roads and also the stock law. This latter subject will probably receive more attention than any other one matter and a number of speakers will use this as their subject. At the conclusion of the meeting the commissioners will come to Newbern to attend the State Firemen's Tournament.

The sums still due from those regarded as able to pay aggregate thousands of dollars.

TOP O' THE MORNING

The road of Right has neither turn nor bend,
It stretches straight unto the highest goal;
Hard, long, and lonely?—yes, yet never soul
Can lose the way thereon, nor miss the end. —LEONARD.

If either side to a controversy agrees with all you say about it, you need no further evidence that you are not neutral.

They're bargaining in the war countries over territory just like they are not fighting for principle or civilization either.

Wilson has plenty of "friends" who are ready to "back him up" in steps that would inevitably bring on war, but can they be counted upon to "back him up" after the "war is on"?

Col. Goethals may believe his work in the Canal Zone is finished. But somehow we believe there is a big job of maintenance down there that the Colonel George can handle better than anybody else.

The world of letters loses a bright, shining star in the death of George Fitch. His admirers are from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He was an apostle of sunshine for whose living the world is better.

The News and Observer thinks there is need for some kind of anti-revolution vaccination with which to work on Haiti and Mexico. We would suggest an injection of lead or steel, using a pump gun for a hypodermic.

A Petrograd correspondent says English is to be substituted by compulsion for German in the commercial schools of Russia. Pity is they don't make English the universal language over there, if for nothing more, for the benefit of the newspaper folks on this side.

Now, just take a squint at this from the Newbern Journal, which has the firemen with it this week: "Visitors in the city from Greensboro, Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Wilmington, will kindly refrain from rubbering at the tall buildings down in the business section of the city."

If Wilson wanted to follow the line of least resistance in dealing with the foreign nations which are giving us trouble, about the easiest way we know would be to go to war with them and that right soon. But that is the one thing Wilson is trying honorably to avoid. And that is the thing the American people want him to avoid, individual wisecre advisers to the contrary notwithstanding.

The success of the German submarines forecasts what the British and French submarines would do were enemy ships on the high seas. It proves, too, that as the years pass the landing of an invading army by ships on the British Isles will grow more and more impossible. The British fleet never again perhaps will be the terror to other nations that it has been in the past. The British people will never again have so much to fear from invasion by water. So much for the undersea boat—the boat born of the necessities of the harassed Confederacy at Charleston.—Columbia State.

In honor of the visiting Rotarians in Raleigh yesterday, the News and Observer came to us in a splendid extra edition of many pages, presenting a reflection of some of the Rotary activities in the two states of Carolina and Virginia. The edition was embellished with a number of half tones of prominent Rotarians with a roster of the club of each city, while the advertisements of various firms in Raleigh and elsewhere bespoke the progressive spirit that is ever characteristic of the organization. Among a group of live wires on one of the pages, the "youthful" countenances of President John R. Murchison and Secretary Meares Harriss were easily recognizable by Wilmingtonians.

THAT INSPIRING SEABOARD STORY.

That inspiring story of the new financial plan of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company, worked out by Chairman S. Davies Warfield and adopted by the board of directors in special meeting in Baltimore Monday, as published in The Star yesterday morning, is calculated to cause one to forget that there is any war in Europe. Certainly when such men as Mr. Warfield and his associates exhibit such confidence in the present and future resourcefulness and stability of the South as to adopt a constructive programme of such large proportions, involving as it does, the new investment of millions of dollars in development of its properties and the improvement of its system, it is high time that men of smaller affairs cast their doubts and misgivings to the winds, take courage and catch inspiration from the optimism of these men of larger affairs and follow their example, which would seem to be based on the motto: In time of war prepare for peace.

Not only are the directors of the Seaboard showing their confidence in the future, but the financial interests of the country who are investing in the company's new securities are showing that they have no fear of impending depression and that they consider money spent in permanent improvements, development and expansion of railroad properties a safe and wise investment. Already Chairman Warfield has negotiated the sale of nearly $23,000,000 in bonds, the first of a series that are to be issued from time to time as the contemplated developments of the company bring about the necessity for the money.

A gigantic new investment for a time like the present is represented in the plan to build an entirely new line of railroad from Charleston to Savannah, a distance of 85 miles, which will give the Seaboard a second track from Hamlet, N. C., to the Georgia port city, shortening the haul between the North and South and affording a maximum grade between these points of one-half of one per cent, whereas the maximum grade of the present trunk line from Hamlet to Savannah is one and one-half per cent. These two lines will answer the same purpose as a double track, but with the tremendous additional advantage that each will be self supporting and serve different territory.

By the new acquisition, the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company will add between 400 and 500 miles of new trackage to its system, including the new main line of 416 miles from Hamlet to Savannah, 85 miles of which are to be built. The Seaboard will thus reach Charleston and Georgetown and tap a rich and fertile territory, highly productive in cotton and tobacco and will add immensely to the facilities for the development of that section.

Both the South and the progressive Seaboard Air Line are to be congratulated upon the great railroad's new programme of development and expansion, for, as Mr. Franklin Q. Brown, prominent New York banker, says, "Mr. Warfield has accomplished a fine piece of constructive work for the Seaboard and the South as well as for the security holders of the railroad, and in the language of Mr. Robert F. Maddox, well known banker of Atlanta, who is one of the Seaboard's directors, Chairman Warfield has "helped our entire Southern country, in devising means for the greater development of the Seaboard Air Line and the South, and he has placed the railroad in a firm position financially."

Not the least consideration in connection with the matter is the tremendous impetus that the action of the Seaboard ought to give to Southern industry generally by the remarkable confidence it has evidenced at this time.

THE BRIGHT SIDE OF WAR

As Mr. Theo. H. Price, the brilliant and versatile editor of Commerce and Finance, a weekly periodical published in New York, so well says in the last issue of this paper, there is no situation in life, however distressing, that is without its mitigations and one of the compensations of the horrible European war is the economy it has induced throughout the world. In Europe economy has become fashionable because it is compulsory and the reflex in America of the European fashion is apparent to the most casual observer.

After pointing out the tremendous cost of the war to all the countries, involved both in human life and in money and material resources of all kinds, Mr. Price well observes that this means self denial but that this is not to be regretted. He points out the many advantages to the child or youth who must adjust his expenditures to a moderate allowance. The pernicious effect of a large income or unearned wealth upon young people is so generally recognized that most parents take care to see that their children shall not come into possession of great wealth until they reach maturity.

Man's real needs after all are few and modest. A small sum will provide food, clothing, shelter, heat, light, transportation and medical attendance for any man and his family. Mr. Price declares that what we spend in excess of the amount required for these essentials is induced almost entirely by pride. Men when dining alone eat simply. They wear their old clothes when they do not expect to see anyone. The woman who gives a costly dinner party does so not to please her guests but to outdo some one else.

"Extravagance implies a lack of moral courage in that it results from an unwillingness to face the facts," Mr. Price concludes. "There are those who believe that war is necessary for the reinvigoration of valor and physical courage. It may be that it is equally necessary to revive the moral courage and self restraint without which the uncurbed extravagance of man would involve the world in economic ruin; a ruin from which there would be no recovery because the strength of character without which thrift is impossible would also be destroyed."

THE GRANDIOSE STYLE.

In these days of writing and more writing about the war, politics, problems of material welfare, social reform and a thousand other things we sometimes wish we could get away and forget it all. Walter Lippmann, a New York critic in this week's New Republic, takes a fling at political writing and incidentally delivers himself of a few thoughts induced by this general feeling that we are failing to get down to fundamentals.

Boss, heeler, machine, log-rolling, pork-barrel and words of similar low birth are tabooed by high brow writers but they nevertheless have a very real meaning to Americans. Mr. Lippmann says the absurd pretense that a great utterance is being delivered is what kills political writing. Instead of talking about national obligations, social consciousness, sovereign will and other high sounding phrases, knowing that they are familiar and will be respected, Mr. Lippmann declares that we cover and qualify and elucidate, speak vaguely and mumble, because we are afraid to be wrong. Instead of striking straight ahead we equivocate, beat around the stump, hesitate, stop, look, listen—in short we get nowhere because we have no goal in sight.

Dead speech is good enough for thoughts that bring no news, says this critic of American politics, and while in these tomes over which we yawn at night there are occasionally ideas that might shake the world they are written for people who do not want to shake it. They help to lull men to sleep and the world goes on without being disturbed.

With Mr. Lippmann we heartly join in the wish that we could have less of the grandiose in the discussion of live issues and more real pungent thought, clothed in words that get beneath the skin, which will make men sit up and take notice instead of putting a quietus on their mental activities.

Bobo has ordered his men disarmed in Haiti. Bo is a good old scout who saw the handwriting on the wall.

TYPHOID CARRIER CAUSES IT.

Official Report Charges Greensboro's Typhoid Epidemic to Carrier.

(State Board of Health.)

Greensboro's recent typhoid epidemic was caused by a typhoid carrier who worked for the Buffalo dairy on whose milk route all the epidemic cases occurred. These in brief are the official findings of the State Board of Health in the case just made public today. Mr. Tate, the carrier, has had two cases of typhoid fever himself, one when he was a child and another about six or seven years ago. Three years ago while this same Mr. Tate was in the employ of another dairy, the Hunter dairy, a small epidemic occurred on the route of this dairyman which epidemic stopped as soon as the dairy was required to stop selling milk. Similarly another interesting coincidence in the matter of the present epidemic is the fact that shortly after the Buffalo dairy was required to discontinue business the present epidemic stopped.

While the present epidemic of 28 cases and three deaths in the course of about six weeks was certainly bad enough, according to the report just filed, it is not nearly as important for the city of Greensboro as the continued high run of cases of typhoid due to the disgracefully bad sanitary conditions that prevail throughout a large portion of the unsewered part of Greensboro. Accompanying the report are a number of photographs of actual conditions in Greensboro. These photographs show the worst as well as the best sanitary conditions in the town. Several of them will be reproduced in a coming issue of the Bulletin. Although there has been an ordinance requiring sanitary privies on the statute books for two or three years it is admitted that there are no less than 1,500 open back surface privies from which flies may carry typhoid and diarrhoeal diseases at will and only about 100 closed privies and it is doubtful if many of these are fly proof.

In regard to the terrible toll from these insanitary conditions the report points that during the last four years there have been about 330 cases of typhoid in Greensboro of which only about 50 were of epidemic origin and 280 were due to open back privies, flies, unscreened doors and windows. In other words it has cost Greensboro about $98,000 in lives and health lost during the last four years for the privilege of living in such unmentionable filth.

"NEUTRALITY AND TRADE IN ARMS."

To the Editor of the Star:

The article herewith so clearly demolishes the hypocritical argument against the exportation of arms that you are requested to print it for public information.

(From New York Journal of Commerce.)

The Imperial government of Germany has not had the temerity to contend that the Government of the United States should put an embargo upon the export of arms and ammunition to countries engaged in war, but there is reason to suspect that it was not without influence in inducing Austria to send a note to our government in which it is argued that "unhindered trade in contraband of war" should not be permitted by a neutral government, "if this trade assumes such a character or proportions that the neutrality of the country is thereby impaired." This assumes that such neutrality may be impaired by the mere fact of allowing the unhindered trade, and the Austrian note takes the ground that the American trade has that effect because the munitions reach only one party to the complicated conflict. This note has not yet been answered, but there can be no doubt as to what the purport of the reply will be. There has been a pro-German and pro-Austrian agitation in this country, joined in more or less by Americans of the class known as "pacifists" or peace at any price men, in favor of action by Congress authorizing the President to lay an embargo upon the export of arms and ammunition to belligerent nations, and in favor of the exercise of that authority. It has been already made plain that the Administration at Washington regards any action of that kind as a violation rather than an observance of the duty of neutrality. Besides that the adoption of any such policy would set a precedent which might become dangerous for the country responsible for it.

It is not at all strange that Germans or Americans of pro-German sympathies should object to the "unhindered trade" in war munitions, because the Germans derive no benefit from it, while it is a material help to the Allies who are defending themselves against their attack and struggling to repel their forces. But the Germans do not need any such benefit. They were preparing for years for the war which they precipitated, and they were fully equipped, not only with munitions, but with the means of keeping up their supply indefinitely. That had been a part of their preparation. On the other hand, the nations attacked, or brought into the conflict by the terms of their alliance or their obligation to defend the neutrality of Belgium, were quite unprepared. They had neither the armies, the equipment nor the means of providing themselves with arms and ammunition for such a contest as was suddenly forced upon them. They had to recruit, organize and discipline their forces to a large extent, and to a still larger extent they were dependent upon trade with neutral nations for all manner of supplies, including the chief munitions of war. For a year they have been struggling at a serious disadvantage on account of these necessities, and without a strict maintenance of the rights of trade with neutral nations they would have been in an almost hopeless position. It is not to be expected that Germany and Austria-Hungary would object to that, but it is rather preposterous for them to claim that they are entitled to have neutral nations help them to maintain the advantage they had been acquiring so long and at such cost.

There is not the least doubt or question about the established principle and practice in this matter, and none has ever been seriously raised before. The belligerents are entirely free, under what has heretofore been established as international law or rules of war, to obtain munitions wherever they can, and citizens of neutral nations, though not their governments, are at liberty to supply them, subject to all the risks of dealing in what is universally acknowledged to be contraband articles. In supplying one or another belligerent they are liable to have their cargoes and the vessels carrying them captured or destroyed by its enemies, without redress or reparation. Now it so happens that in this war, for which Germany is mainly, if not solely, responsible, that nation does not need to obtain munitions from neutral countries, while her enemies do. It also happens that those enemies are in a position to get them and to prevent them from reaching her. They are fairly entitled, under all recognized principles and practice, to that offset to her initial advantage, just so far and so long as they can maintain it, and the subjects of neutral nations have the same right to trade in this contraband that they would have if the belligerent were on an equal footing in respect to benefitting by it.

In all the controversies that have risen between nations in this terrible year of war, nothing is more clearly and unquestionably established than this, and for the belligerents which were fully armed and equipped and ready for the conflict that they precipitated to complain because their enemies are able in some measure to make up their deficiencies from trade with neutral nations, and to contend that those nations should deny them the opportunity, is far from heroic or dignified. For the neutrals to withhold the trade would be distinctly to take sides against the party caught at a disadvantage and to help the assailant in the conflict. Could there be a more complete abandonment of real neutrality than that? Suppose this "principle" of putting an embargo upon trade with belligerents in munitions of war by neutral nations were once to be established and accepted, or suppose one important neutral nation should adopt it for itself, with the effect it would have upon those who suffered thereby, and in the course of time that nation, addicted to peace and averse to war, should be compelled to defend itself from some aggressive attack! It would certainly be unprepared and dependant upon other nations for war supplies, which it would not be in a position to provide for itself, but would be able and willing to pay for on any needed scale. What would its predicament be if its own precedent and example should be accepted and acted upon by neutrals to the conflict into which it was forced? This is, indeed, a senseless controversy to which there is only one side.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Governor Doughton's formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of Attorney General has been delayed a little bit longer than had been expected but now that it is made, it will have a tendency to somewhat clarify the situation, so far as that particular office is concerned. We judge this by reason of the fact that almost all others whose candidacy had been suggested have intimated that should Doughton come out they would not be in the running. It is quite likely that the race for the nomination will be between Doughton and Carter. —Charlotte Observer.

Now comes news from the sixth congressional district that the Wilmington aspirant for Godwin's seat, Mr. Little, is coming to the front in a way to attract notice. Our informant says the scene of activities has centered around Little within the past few days to such an extent as to cause a revision of forecasts. The menace to Godwin is declared to have shifted from Chadbourn to Wilmington and that the Godwin people are regarding Little as the man to take into account. Not a great deal of campaign work is being done in the open so far, but the friends of each of the aspirants are hard at work "deadening timber." —Charlotte Observer.

SPLENDID EXHIBIT BY ATLANTIC COAST LINE

Of Agricultural and Horticultural Products of South

Will Leave Wilmington on August 19th in Charge of Mr. Cardwell—To be Shown in Many Northern States for Two Months.

What is declared to be the most complete and attractive exhibit ever to be sent out by the Atlantic Coast Line from "The Nation's Garden Spot" will leave Wilmington in a large express car on August 19th in charge of Mr. G. A. Cardwell, agricultural and immigration agent for this road, and will be sent direct to Butler, Pa., where the exhibit will be on display at the fair which will be on at that place from August 24th to the 25th. The exhibit will be shown at different points in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York and Maryland until October 15th, and will be the means of giving much publicity to the South as hundreds of thousands of people will visit the various fairs where it is shown.

Mr. Cardwell will be accompanied on the trip by Mr. G. H. Coyle, his chief clerk, and Mr. E. Cliff Cohen, traveling passenger agent of this road with headquarters in Washington, D. C. Mr. E. B. O'Kelley, assistant agricultural and immigration agent, of Jacksonville, Fla., will also be with Mr. Cardwell for a part of the tour. The exhibit is sent out by the Agricultural and Immigration Department of the Atlantic Coast Line under the direction of Mr. W. J. Craig, general traffic manager of the system.

Following is the itinerary of the fairs that will be visited: Butler, Pa., August 24th-27th; Exposition Park, Pa., August 31st to September 3rd; Wheeling, W. Va., September 6th to 10th; Syracuse, N. Y., September 13th to 18th; Allentown, Pa., September 21st to 24th; Lancaster, Pa., September 28th to October 1st; York, Pa., October 4th to 8th; Hagerstown, Md., October 12th to 15th.

The display consists of commercial crops grown in the "Nation's Garden Spot," that section of the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida traversed by the Atlantic Coast Line, such as vegetables and fruits of many kinds, cotton, corn, small grains, forage, tobacco, etc., all attractively arranged, and in charge of men thoroughly acquainted with conditions, and well equipped to give competent information to those seeking knowledge of the lands and crops of the South.

The exhibit will surpass those given in past years at Northern fairs by the Atlantic Coast Line. It embraces a complete line of the products grown in the states traversed by the Coast Line. The exhibit will be placed alongside the agricultural and horticultural exhibits of the various sections in which the fairs are held and Mr. Cardwell feels that his exhibit will compare most favorably with them. He knows the resources of the Northern states from observation, having traveled extensively over the territory, and believes that the South has many superior advantages.

PENDER COUNTY OFFENDER.

Arrested by Local Officers on Charge of Store Breaking.

Liston Pridgen, white, charged with breaking into the store of Mr. C. A. Blizzard, four miles from Currie, Saturday night, was arrested at No. 1620 South Sixth street Monday night by Deputy Sheriff C. H. Keen, where Pridgen was staying with a relative. It is alleged that he succeeded in getting $177 in cash from the store and that he affected an entrance by sawing a bolt.

The case was worked up by County Officer H. Mack Godwin and the defendant will be represented by Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq. When he returns to Pender county, Pridgen will be required to answer to the charge of stealing a watch from Mr. Blizzard last December.

Mrs. M. Emmett Cullen, of Williamsport, Md., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Frances Lillian Cullen, to Mr. Edward Hines, of Wilmington. The wedding will take place in the Fall. Mr. Hines is a well known young business man of this city, being secretary and treasurer of The Corbett Company.

Negro Steals Bath Tub in Daylight

TAKEN FROM VACANT HOUSE IN RESIDENCE DISTRICT—LOADED ON WAGON AND SOLD TO PLUMBER.

When a neighbor of Mrs. Elizabeth Darby, who lives on the northeast corner of Second and Ann streets, but is now away from home, saw a wagon in front of the home yesterday about noon and saw two negroes moving a bath tub out she was a little curious to know why it was being moved. She called Mr. J. O. Reilly, who has charge of the home, to find out about it. Mr. Reilly didn't know about anybody moving and proceeded to investigate.

He hadn't gone far before he found that a negro had sold a bath tub to Mr. H. E. Longley, the plumber, for $3. He had also instructed the lady to find out the license number of the dray wagon and further investigation revealed the fact that Cal Jones, a colored man, was the owner of the wagon. Cal, however, said he had merely acted in the capacity of hauling the tub and had nothing more to do with robbing the house further than that. However, he is being held in the sum of $100 for his appearance before Justice Harriss on a charge of aiding and abetting in the larceny of the tub. In the meantime County Officer H. Mack Godwin is endeavoring to find who it was that concocted the scheme of stealing a bath tub and selling it for ready cash.

These together with sprigs picked from the floral tributes will be sent to the widow in Germany.

Among those present at the services yesterday were: German Vice Consul J. G. L. Gieschen, Mayor Moore, Chief of Police Williams, a committee from the German-American Alliance and others. The Elks' Temple was closed during the hour of the funeral.

REV. MR. NOE RESCUES MASTER ROBERT RUARK

Who Came Near Drowning in Banks Channel Monday Evening.

Archdeacon Thos. P. Noe saved the life of Master Robert Ruark, Jr., eight-year-old son of City Attorney and Mrs. Robert Ruark, Monday afternoon, when little Robert jumped from a small boat into the water where it was over his head, and was unable to swim. The accident occurred in Banks Channel, near the Girls' Friendly Society cottage on Wrightsville Beach, Northern Extension.

Robert, with his older brother, Samuel, and two sons of Rev. Thomas P. Noe, was playing in a small boat which they thought was anchored, but discovered differently after they had floated away from the shore to where the water was deep. An older son of Mr. Noe happened to be on the shore nearby and saw their danger and called for help. Rev. Mr. Noe jumped into the water without taking time to remove any of his clothing, and for that reason had rather a hard time in bringing the boy in. When he had Robert safe, he immediately swam to the boat and brought it ashore, for fear that some of the other boys might become frightened and follow the example of Robert Ruark, who would likely have been drowned had not Rev. Mr. Noe come at once to his rescue. Robert had swallowed quite a good bit of water, but the last report was that he had about recovered.

SUSPENDED FOR COSTS

Several Cases Before Recorder Yesterday Morning

There were few cases in the Recorder's court yesterday. The Ittner case will be passed on Friday instead of today. Thomas Payne, Jr., colored, was convicted of assaulting a female and fined and taxed with costs, later sentenced to the roads for 60 days in default and finally secured the costs, upon the payment of which he was released.

Ben Campbell, colored, tried on a similar charge, was sentenced to 60 days in default of fine and costs. Hallos Posvanais, the Greek, who was arrested Monday for selling cigarettes to minor, was taxed with the costs and prayer for judgment was continued against him. Preston Riggs was tried for disorderly conduct and discharged on payment of costs.

OUTLINE MOVIE PROGRAMME

Camera Man Begins This Morning—Arrangements Are Complete—Take City Before Beach.

Plans were all completed, all committees appointed and notified yesterday, and the movie man will arrive at 10 o'clock this morning to put Wilmington "on the movie map." He will start in early this afternoon taking the preliminary city scenes. The entire schedule of scenes to be taken has been mapped out by Messrs. Kerber and Daley, of the National Film Corporation, with Mr. P. W. Wells, who will aid in directing the production as a whole.

The different parts of the picture have been placed in the hands of committees, with chairmen who will have in charge all the details connected with staging the scenes successfully. The chairman of each committee was appointed at a meeting at the City Hall yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and they in turn will appoint their own committees to co-operate with them in staging the scenes for the camera man.

The first scenes to be taken, starting at 2 o'clock this afternoon, will be different down-town buildings, including the Wilmington Hotel, Orton Hotel, People's Savings Bank building, Atlantic Trust & Banking Company, Murchison building, postoffice, Cape Fear Club and Y. M. C. A., together with any other street scenes which may be suggested by the various committees. Mr. Howard B. Branch, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will direct this part of the picture.

An important feature of the down-town city scenes will be panoramic views taken from the Atlantic Trust & Banking Company, the Murchison National Bank and postoffice buildings.

Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, Mayor P. Q. Moore, chairman, will arrange for a review of the fire and police departments on parade in front of the City Hall, reviewed by the Mayor and City Council. At 2 P. M. Chairman L. M. Bunting will stage a thrilling scene, showing the entire fire department in action, after showing them leaving headquarters.

Friday morning at 9:30 Chairman W. D. MacMillan, Jr., will arrange for taking the reception committee in automobiles, on Second street, between Princess and Chestnut. Chairman W. J. Craig will arrange for the scenes at the union station, showing arrival of trains at 10 A. M., exterior of A. C. L. office buildings at 1 P. M. and exterior of union station at 1:15 P. M. At 1:20 P. M. Chairman A. B. Skelding will arrange for photographing a long string of beach cars leaving union station.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock Chairman J. S. Williams will have taken various interesting scenes of the harbor front, including the two German steamers interned here. Probably one of the best features of the picture will be the yacht races, which will be pulled off Saturday at 2 P. M., this being in charge of Mr. Henry J. MacMillan.

Sunday will be another busy day, arrangements having been made for taking some views of New Hanover's good roads coincident with the automobile ride to be given to the lady visitors at the convention on Sunday afternoon. An exciting boat race has been arranged in the surf and later in the afternoon scenes will be taken of long trains crossing the trestle over Banks Channel and arriving at Lumina.

Monday morning at 10 o'clock the ladies will be given a yacht ride in the sound, Mrs. P. W. Wells and Mrs. James Howard being in charge of the reception to the ladies. At 11 o'clock Mr. F. W. Peiffer will direct the photographing of the Mayor, City Council, Congressman Godwin and Mayor Wright on board Capt. Marine's boats, and at noon these, with all the exhibitors and their friends, will be photographed at the Oceanic. At 1 o'clock Monday afternoon Mr. Skelding will arrange for taking of dancing scenes at Lumina, and will endeavor to get a very large crowd on Lumina at that time. In the afternoon the Seaboard Surgeons, in convention at the Seashore Hotel, will be photographed, together with Mayor Wright and the Board of Aldermen of Wrightsville Beach.

The following were appointed as a reception committee for the exhibitors: Mayor P. Q. Moore, of Wilmington; Mayor Thomas H. Wright, of Wrightsville Beach; President C. E. Hall, of the Chamber of Commerce, and Messrs. John Murchison, W. A. McGirt, A. B. Skelding, J. H. Cowan, J. E. Thompson, W. D. McCaig and W. D. MacMillan, Jr.

The general entertainment committee is as follows: Mayors Moore and Wright, Messrs. W. A. McGirt, A. B. Skelding, L. E. Hall and Meares Harriss. The ladies' reception committee will be in charge of Mrs. P. W. Wells and Mrs. James Howard.

CALOMEL IS MERCURY! IT SICKENS! ACTS ON LIVER LIKE DYNAMITE

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Starts Your Liver Better Than Calomel and Doesn't Salivate or Make You Sick.

Listen to me! Take no more sickening, salivating calomel when bilious or constipated. Don't lose a day's work! Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone on my guarantee.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful tonight and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous by morning I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

To Those Who Would Name A Personal Friend As Executor and Trustee

Often it is desired to keep an estate under the supervision of a friend or member of the family, and yet avoid the dangers of individual trusteeship, such as illness, death or other circumstances that may impair the estate.

This may easily be accomplished by naming The People's Savings Bank as co-executor and co-trustee.

Such a precaution is particularly advisable when a wife or other woman relative is to be executrix and trustee, because the Bank can relieve her entirely of the heavy responsibilities and arduous details, as it has an unexcelled organization and wide experience in handling personal trusts.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable

Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women

for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

TRADE AT HOME

Give the Local Merchant the benefit of your trade, and by so doing keep money at home.

No community can prosper by foreign buying.

The secret of community prosperity is to sell more to the outsider than the outsider sells to us, thus making the trade balance run in our favor.

This policy brings in more wealth than goes out, and constantly adds to local resources.

It makes better business, higher wages, and a more prosperous community.

We are interested in any movement that looks to local improvement, and recommend the Buy at Home Policy for the general good.

"The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a diamond pendant set with pearls and to the best man a gold stick pin. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold ring.

REPRESENTATIVE L. H. ALLRED FILES BANKRUPTCY PETITION

Surrenders Everything, Settles Up and Starts Life Anew.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 10. — A petition in bankruptcy was filed here today for L. H. Allred, of Smithfield, with J. H. Abell as trustee, for adjusting the indebtedness of Allred, who states his indebtedness to be about $25,000. He turns over all assets without any homestead reservations, and relatives contribute additional funds to make the settlement with creditors complete.

The adjustment of Mr. Allred's affairs has been in progress for several days. Prominent lawyer, legislator and mayor of Smithfield, Mr. Allred's financial troubles came as a great surprise and his clear presentation of the complications and surrender of all he has and assumption of debt to kinspeople who helped him to make a clear settlement and start over in life is a gratificaton to his friends.

It is admitted that as pressure of financial stress bore upon him the past five years he placed sums of money to his own uses that he held for clients, expecting to adjust all with ample personal revenue that seemed just ahead. Now comes the full statement and successful effort of Allred and his people to give a full settlement to all creditors. Mr. Allred has served three terms as a member of the House of Representatives, was a member of the special commission to investigate the Carter-Abernathy case, and resigned as a legislator to become mayor of Smithfield in the Spring.

As the season progresses, Manager Wood, of the open-air theatre at Lumina, appears to be strengthening his programme, the bill for Monday night being especially strong. "Love, Snow and Ice," a Vitagraph three-reel comedy, was one of the most beautiful pictures seen in any movie house in this section in a long time.

An Essanay love drama in two parts will be the feature picture to be shown on the screen amid the ocean waves at Lumina tonight. The name of the play is the "Clutch of Circumstances" and the name of the star is Edna Mayo, a talented young actress. A laughable Ham and Bud comedy entitled "Ham and the Detective" is also on the bill for tonight, making a very interesting programme.

DISCRIMINATION IN FAVOR OF LUMBER FROM CANADA

Charge Made by Western Lumbermen to Federal Trade Commission.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 10. — Charges that American lumber and lumber products are discriminated against in Canada were made today by W. M. Pigott, president of a car and foundry company, testifying at a hearing before the Federal Trade Commission.

"There is definite discrimination in Canada against American manufactured lumber," said Mr. Pigott. "I have seen contracts for the construction which provided that all of the materials used must be made in Canada. If we want foreign trade, we must re-arrange our customs laws and trade conditions."

Victor Beckman, formerly of the Lumber Manufacturers' Association of Western Oregon, submitted a brief, which contained definite allegations of discrimination on the part of Canadian shipping interests and wholesalers.

AMERICA CHINA'S BEST FRIEND

The Only Power That Has Not Abused China, Says Owyang

San Francisco, Aug 10.—In an address tonight to the International Immigration Congress Kee Owyang, Chinese commissioner to the Panama-Exposition, said the United States is the only one of the great powers which had not abused China.

"The United States is the only powerful nation, "Mr. Owyang said, "that has not, at any time, resorted to methods of bullying, coercing or browbeating China for commercial gain".

He said he found much to condemn, however, in the operation of the Chinese exclusion act which he characterized as an "unjust law, a breach of treaty" and the only possible cause of friction between the two countries.

FURTHER DECLINE IN COTTON

Owing to Additional Showers Southwest and Easier Tone in Liverpool—Close Steady.

New York, Aug. 10.—There was a further decline in cotton market today owing to additional showers Southwest and continuation of the easier tone in Liverpool, with the close steady at a net loss of 11 to 15 points.

The market opened at a decline of 8 points and sold 10 points net lower during the first few minutes. The western belt forecast for clearing conditions suggested that the shewery spell west of the river might pass without any relief of importance to drouthy conditions in South Texas, and the market rallied 4 or 5 points from the lowest during the middle of the morning on buying which seemed to come largely from Wall Street and western sources. This was supposed to be partly based on the optimistic view of general conditions as reflected in the strength of the stock market and prospects for large grain crops, but the buying did not become general or aggressive, and the market weakened again in the afternoon owing to numerous private reports of further and more general rains in Texas.

There was a good deal of scattering liquidation on the decline which carried prices about 14 to 16 points on the active months and the close was at practically the low point of the day. Private cables indicated that the decline in Liverpool had been based largely on the reports of rain in the Southwest and the local market was again without the support of Liverpool straddle buying which was one of the trading features last week. New Orleans and Memphis were moderate sellers here, but few orders were received otherwise from the South and there was little hedge selling.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Market Under Selling Pressure as Result of Rains in Belt.

New Orleans, Aug. 10.—Cotton was under selling pressure during almost all of today's session as the result of rains in the belt. While the market fell off, the decline was moderate, owing to realizing by scalping shorts. At the lowest, prices were 11 to 12 points under yesterday's finals. The close was at practically the lowest.

In early trading, the market lost 9 to 10 points, a rush of selling being seen on the first call. Around the middle of the morning the demand from realizing shorts was good and the market took on a better tone, while active months recovered to within 3 or 4 points of yesterday's close. Weather practically was the only element taken into consideration.

Futures closed steady; October 9.08; December 9.35; January 9.48; March 9.71; May 9.91.

Spot quiet, unchanged. Sales on the spot 200 bales; to arrive 1,825; middling 8.8[illegible].

STOCKS STRONG AND ACTIVE

Conditions of a More Substantial and Enduring Character—Broad Demand.

New York, Aug. 10.—Conditions of a more substantial and enduring character contributed to today's very strong and active stock market. After yesterday's highly promising crop report, came the news that the Interstate Commerce Commission probably would grant increased freight rates to the two score railroads traversing the western section of the country. This resulted in a broad demand for the better known railway issues, including hard and soft coal shares. The extent of the prospective rate increase is yet a matter of conjecture, but Wall Street seemed to proceed on the theory that a very considerable part of the demands of the railroad would be met.

Canadian Pacific gained 6 7-8 points on the announcement late yesterday of the maintenance of the regular dividend, although the action was criticised in conservative quarters. Even minor roads like Erie, Rock Island, New Haven and Chesapeake & Ohio participated appreciably in the forward movement.

United States Steel common touched 76 3-4, its best price since 1912. The price fell back over a point when publication of the July unfilled tonnage statement showed an increase of about 250,000 tons, whereas a larger gain had been anticipated.

War specialties were not entirely neglected, new high quotations being registered by General Motors common and preferred at 221 and 109 1-2 respectively. Westinghouse at 115; Wyllis Overland at 160, and Studebaker at 87 1-2.

The latest turn to events in Mexico was reflected in the strength of Southern Pacific, American Smelting, Mexican Petroleum and National Railways of Mexico. Impending imports of gold from London, via Halifax, were without effect on the weakened exchange market, demands sterling falling to the new low of 4.75 3-8, while checks on Paris broke to the new record of 57.

Bonds were steady, but relatively quiet. Total sales, par value, $3,175,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

VICTOR S. BRYANT HEARD BY FIREMEN

Goes After Southeastern Tariff Association.

CAPT. M'NEILL HEARD

In His Annual Address He Intimates There May Be Something Wrong With Fire Insurance Business —Attendance Large

(Special Star Telegram)

Newbern, N. C., Aug 10.—A few minutes before 11 o'clock tonight the State Firemen's Association, assembled in annual convention here, unanimously decided to hold their next annual meeting and tournament in Raleigh. Upon motion of J. A. Turner, of Louisburg, the following officers were re-elected for the ensuing term :

President—Jas. D. McNeill, of Fayetteville.

First Vice President—A. H. Boyden, of Salisbury.

Second Vice President—A M. Clark, of Southern Pines.

Secretary—John L. Miller, of Concord.

Treasurer—Charles Schnibben, of Wilmington.

Statistician—T. D. Davis, of Newbern.

The first business meeting of the Firemen's Association, holding its 28th annual convention in Newbern this week, was held this morning at the court house and was attended by more than a thousand persons, including firemen and the guests of honor. Promptly at 11 o'clock President James D. McNeill called the convention to order after which Rev. Euclid McWhorter, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, invoked the blessing of the Lord upon the assembly.

The address of welcome on behalf of the city was delivered by Hon. S. M. Brinson in his usual eloquent and forceful manner. This was responded to by Ex-Mayor James A. Turner, of Louisburg, in a most fitting manner. A. M. Clark, chief of the Southern Pines fire department, also made a few remarks in response to the welcome. Following this came the reports of the credentials committee and a few minor matters, after which a recess was taken until the afternoon.

When the convention reconvened, Victor S. Bryant, of Durham, was the first speaker on the programme. After expressing his pleasure at being in Newbern and praising the hospitality of its citizens, he launched into one of the most brilliant speeches ever heard in this city. Mr. Bryant was a member of the legislative investigating committee appointed in 1913 to investigate the fire insurance business in North Carolina and his speech dealt with this subject. He dealt the southeastern Tariff Association some heavy blows, telling of the manner in which they carried on business, charging what rates they please, "freezing" out competition and discriminating against the people of the State in general. He ended with the declaration that when the next Legislature is convened, unless there is relief before that time, laws will be passed that will stop the high handed acts of the association.

Following this came the reports of the various officers . The most interesting of these was that of President McNeill.

Before the close of the afternoon session Sherwood Brockwell, of Raleigh, gave a most interesting demonstration of how to treat firemen who have been overcome by smoke or flames . This was listened to most attentively and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Tonight another business session was held and a number of important matters were brought up . Tomorrow morning a spectacular parade is to be held and this will be viewed by thousands of people.

In the afternoon the first races will be held. The tracks are now in fine shape and the racing teams are ready for the fray.

President McNeill's Address

The annual address of President James D. McNeill was of special interest. Among other things of public interest, Captain McNeill said:

"If there is any one subject, upon which our people in the towns and cities need education and enlightenment more than any other it is upon the value and importance of fire prevention and fire-protection. But few people realize that the danger from fire, is an hundred fold greater than it was a generation ago. Artificial light and heat of various descriptions, the varied and careless conustruction of our dwellings, the inflammable nature of merchandise, the careless handling of matches by servants and children, and in connection with the deadly cigarettes, the careless use of potroluem, gasoline and other explosive in our kitchens, defective electrical wiring and the scores of other causes, demand that our citizenship should protect itself against so merciless and destructive an enemy as Fire. Many think that they have done so when they insure their property against fire-loss and to a certain extent they have done so, but could they realize the price that they are paying for their protection in a comparsion to what it would be under a business like condition of fire-prevention, they would be astounded. The great future work therefore in my opinion, of this Association ,is to work in harmony with our great Insurance interests, and by our continual and increased efficiency, to so safe-guard them against losses—that would enable them to furnish good and safe insurance at a much less rate than now exists and still show good profit to their stockholders. Looking to this result, I issued a call to all of our representative firemen to meet last evening, to arrange for such deliberations upon the floor of the convention covering two especially important matters. One, that of Fire-Inspection and prevention, seeking to decrease the fire-waste in the State, and the other, the great question of Insurance rates upon the property of towns and cities in which we are located and are giving such splendid protection. There seems to be an almost universal complaint throughout the State as to increased rates of insurance. This complaint is well-founded or it is not. If rates have been increased ,and the increase is necessary, then it is certainly necessary that this Association should know the facts. This organization is composed of Fire departments of the towns and cities of the State. These departments are maintained by the general public in the places where they are located. Their duties, which orginally and formerly were to protect the lives and property of our citizens from destruction by fire, is today 10 to one to protect the Fire Insurance companies from paying out money losses upon their policies. Insurance is no longer a luxury, but it is a public necessity Legitimate business cannot be profitably carried on without it. It is essential to commercialize prosperity. It has long since ceased to be a private matter, but is one in which every class of our citizenship is personally interested. As our Fire departments become more and more efficient, quite naturally fire-losses become less and less. If this is so, and cold facts prove that it is so. then it seems naturally that as the risk is less, that the rate ought to decrease instead of increase. One thing is sure, if increased effeciency does not decrease losses, then my comrades, we have been chasing rainbows, and have been to lots of trouble and expense for nothing.

"This association my comrades, is a State organization. Its membership is composed of the most patriotic manhood of the State. Its object is being, is to conserve the best interests of all of the people of the State. It is neither the plaything of its members nor the servile tool for the aggrandizement of any man or set of men. We are the very best friends that the Fire Insurance companies have got. They could not live a day without our services. We wish for them the highest measure of success. We are daily risking our lives, health and bodies ,that they may be saved from paying losses upon their policies. We receive no compensation whatever from them, neither do the towns and cities in which we live. They are a privileged class as far as municipal expense is concerned. On the contrary, we are strictly a part of the municipal life of our towns and cities. Our first duty is to them. If, therefore, through our effeciency, the ratio of loss to premiums collected in the towns and cities is less than in the balance of the State, then our own people should have the benefit of your dervice. The discussion of such questions as these, are therefore in my opinion, one of our most important duties. I have therefore extended an invitation to two of our most prominent State speakers to address the convention upon this subject."

TURKS DISPERSE ALLIED TROOPS.

Constantinople Statement Tells of Successes Near Karachal.

Constantinople, via London, Aug. 10.—Turkish troops completely dispersed forces which the Allies landed near Karachal on the north of the Gulf of Saros Saturday night, according to an official Turkish statement issued Monday. Troops landed north of Ari Burnu advanced slightly under protection of the Anglo-French fleet, the statement adds. The statement says:

"In the Dardanelles on Saturday night, under the protection of the fleet, the enemy landed a part of new forces in the environs of Karachali, on the north of the Gulf of Saros, and the remainder on two points north of Ari Burnu. We dispersed completely the enemy forces which landed near Karachali, which left behind some 20 dead.

"North of Ari Burnu the troops which landed made a slight advance under the protection of the fleet. We repelled attacks and took some soldiers and officers prisoners.

"We achieved considerable success near Seddul Bahr in beating back attacks."

London, Aug. 10.—The allied troops in the Dardanelles made a gain of 200 yards on a 300-yard front east of the Krithia road on the Gallipoli peninsula, it was officially announced here today. A footing also has been gained on Chunuk Bahr and another landing effected elsewhere, the statement adds.

BRITISH TROOPS WITHDRAWN.

From Their Line South of Hooge, But Consolidated the Village.

London, Aug. 10.—Sir John French reported today that the British troops had slightly withdrawn from their line south of Hooge, near Ypres, but had consolidated the village of Hooge.

"Northwest of Hooge and in the ruins of the village itself we have consolidated the ground gained yesterday, repulsing one weak infantry attack during the night," says the report. "Yesterday afternoon there was a violent artillery engagement, as a result of which all the trenches in the open ground south of Hooge became untenable by either side and we have now slightly withdrawn the position of our line which lay south of the village.

"This makes no material difference to our position."

In a statement issued yesterday Sir John French reported that the trenches at Hooge, captured by the Germans July 30, were attacked by the British August 9th and all re-taken. Following up this success the British commander said, further progress was made north and west of Hooge and the front of the trenches captured was extended for a distance of 1,200 yards.

ALLIED AIR RAID IN BAVARIA

Eight Persons Killed and Two Wounded by Aircraft

Berlin, via London, Aug 10.—An official communication issued today tells of an allied air raid Monday over Zweibruecken and Sankt Ingbert, Bavaria. Eight persons were killed and two wounded in the latter town.

The communication says:

"Monday forenoon from 6 to 8 enemy aeroplanes attacked Zweibruecken and Sankt Ingbert which are outside the military district. From 15 to 20 bombs were dropped on Zweibruecken causing only unimportant material damage. At Sankt Ingbert eight persons were killed and two wounded."

The Lynx displaced 935 tons was 260 feet long and capable of traveling 32 knots an hour. She carried three 4-inch guns and four 21-inch torpedo tubes. Her complement in normal times was 100 officers and men.

BRITISH RECOVER ALL TRENCHES LOST AUG. 1

Win Important Victory Over Germans in France.

All Together the Most Important Offensive in Weeks—A Front of 1,000 Yards Taken—Heaviest Shelling in Months.

British Headquarters in France, via London, Aug. 10.—By an attack on Hooge this morning the British not only recovered all the trenches which they lost before the flaming German gas attacks on August 1, but more, taking a front of a thousand yards. Altogether this has been the most important offensive in weeks.

The British guns preceded it by shelling the German positions on a part of the line in the Yser canal north of Ypres yesterday afternoon to which the Germans replied in kind, including the heaviest shelling received by the ruins of Ypres for two months.

At 2:30 this morning British guns loosed their thunder on the German trenches at Hooge in front of Ypres. For two hours this continuous roar was kept up before dawn, British infantry rushed the German trenches at Hooge.

British officers said the resistance was surprisingly slight and either the artillery preparation was most successful or the German line must have been weakly held.

All through the day the artillery of both sides continued covering the region of Hooge with shells which were visible over the flat country to the Associated Press correspondent while the British were busy consolidating their gains and preparing against any counter attack.

The British took 250 prisoners and two machine guns.

VILLA WITHDRAWS ORDER.

Already Seems to be Yielding to the Influence of General Scott.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 10.—General Villa today withdrew his order to foreign mining corporations to send representatives to a meeting at Chihuahua City to act on a matter of "great importance," presumably a forced loan, and promised to release from the order of confiscation goods of foreign merchants and mining companies seized at Chihuahua City and Juarez.

Villa's action was taken after a three hour conference with General Hugh Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, and George C. Carothers, State Department agent. Alberto Madero also attended the meeting.

The announcement of the result of the conference came briefly from General Scott.

"General Villa told us he had called off the meeting of mining men and that the goods of foreign merchants confiscated at Chihuahua and Juarez will be released," said a statement issued by General Scott. "Those violating the law will be prosecuted in the civil courts."

DR. S. D. GORDON SPEAKS.

Preached Twice at Methodist Conference at Junaluska Yesterday.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 10.—Dr. S. D. Gordon, author and traveler, of New York City, preached two sermons at the Southern Methodist Bible Conference at Lake Junaluska today. He has just returned from an extended trip through Europe and Asia, and his sermons attracted a large attendance. The morning hours at the conference are being devoted to special studies of the Bible. Dr. Gordon will speak again tomorrow and will be followed by other noted speakers during the conference.

Rome, Aug. 10.—The example of the railroad employes of Milan, who refused $600,000 offered by the government for extra work done by them in connection with the mobilization of the army, has been followed by the railroad men of Rome who have issued a statement declaring: "We would feel ourselves humiliated if we were not willing to give our toil while others give their lives to their country."

Washington, Aug. 10.—Heeding arguments of importers, the Treasury Department decided today that removal of part of the bones of cod fish to aid preservation does not render shipments liable to duty as prepared fish. Skinned or boned fish pay a duty of three-quarters of a cent a pound and the decision, which overrules the appraisers, will place codfish on the free list.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 10.—Twenty-one filibusters and alleged adherents of Victoriano Huerta arrested last week near Fort Hancock today waived examination before United States Commissioner Oliver. The men were detained in default of $24,000 total bond pending the action of the grand jury in October.

Chicago, Aug. 10.—Walter O'Brien and William Egan, former sergeants of the city detective force, tonight were found guilty of accepting bribes to protect criminals. The prosecution was based mainly on testimony of Barney Bertsch and James and Frank Ryan, brothers known as heads of the clairvoyant trust. Bertsch is serving a term for swindling.

Petrograd, via London, Aug. 10.—A war office statement tonight says that Turkish attacks Sunday in the Passine valley in the Caucasus were repulsed "alone the whole front," the Russians capturing Merghe Mir Pass, after a desperate struggle. In the direction of the Euphartes Russian troops are pursuing the retreating Turks, the statement says.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 10.—The battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire sailed from Newport tonight for Vera Cruz. The crews had spent the day loading supplies and coal after receiving orders from Washington to be prepared to leave at a moment's notice.

Washington, Aug 10.—While the Haitien congress has been summoned to meet next Thursday to elect a president, it is believed here the country hardly will be sufficiently quiet to make possible immediate establishment of an orderly government. Rear Admiral Caperton reported today that quiet prevailed in all the territory under American control but reports from the interior were not so encouraging.

Resolvo Bobo, leader of the successful revolution, now wis in Porto au Prince and has assured American officials he will abide by the decision of the congress. Most of his troops have surrendered their arms to the American forces. From the interior the navy department received a dispatch dated August 8 that rebels in the Grande Riviere region were pillaging and burning plantations.

Mr. Office Renter

Is your office hot in summer and cold in winter? If so, why not reverse the situation? Get an office in the new Murchison Building; high up; where the breezes blow all the time and where there is plenty of steam heat in the winter. Quick elevator service day and night. Efficient janitor service. Have your office and records in a fire-proof building. Everything included in rents as low as $12.00 monthly. Start the new renting year right. Before you enter another renting year in your present quarters, let our Renting Agent in Room No. 316 show what we have to offer. Do not wait another year; it will probably be too late then; as we expect the building to be filled during the coming year.

We say: "Don't swap

Benj. Moore & Co's. House Colors

for an inferior paint, because it is cheap, or the result will be the same."

Price $2.00 Per Gallon

An inferior paint is cheap in the can but expensive on the house, because it requires just as much labor to apply and does not last as long.

MOORE'S HOUSE COLORS, being composed of the best pigments, ground in Pure Linseed Oil, cannot help but give entire satisfaction in covering capacity, durability and beauty of finish.
